AeroFit

Breathable Innovation for Thriving Skin

Explore Now

We are proud to introduce the AeroFit System, a prosthetic interface designed to reduce humidity buildup inside the liner. With around 60% of people with lower limb differences affected by moisture related discomfort, AeroFit focuses on improving everyday comfort and perceived skin health.

Designed for TF prosthetic users, it combines a vented conventional TF socket or Direct Socket TF with a 3D printed AeroFit Seal-In liner. This breathable system uses movement to help expel moisture and promote airflow, supporting evaporation, reduced humidity, and drier, healthier feeling skin.
